

Eric Jones

Operations Analyst

As an Operations Analyst at Gresham, Eric plays a role in providing monthly comprehensive balance sheets and performance reporting for all Gresham clients.

Eric joined Gresham in 2023 and he is responsible for supporting all aspects of the Operations Team including maintaining client portfolio data and our Client Relationship Management system. He works closely with our Client Service Team on client reporting and data management integrity.

Prior to joining Gresham, Eric worked in the logistics industry as a freight broker. Eric is an alum of Central State University where he studied Business Management and Project Management. He is an active mentor in the Common Ground Foundation.

Outside of work, Eric enjoys watching sports, listening to music, following crypto news, and rug tufting. Fun fact, he owns an NFT version of the original copy of Michael Jackson's very first recording session. He also got a chance to meet Barack and Michelle Obama at the White House.

EDUCATION BACKGROUND

- B.A., Business Administration, Central State University
- M.B.A., Central State University School of Business