

Ryan Rowley

Technical Business Intelligence Associate

As a Technical Business Intelligence Associate at Gresham, Ryan Rowley leads the technical assessment of current processes and data architecture improvements.

Ryan joined Gresham in 2023 and is responsible for improving Gresham's software systems and business processes, working with stakeholders across the firm to build accurate, efficient, and scalable solutions.

Prior to joining Gresham, Ryan worked as a process automation lead at William Blair and Company.

Outside of work, Ryan enjoys hiking, traveling, watching hockey (go Blackhawks!), and spending time with his family.
